

HEADBANGER TAIL

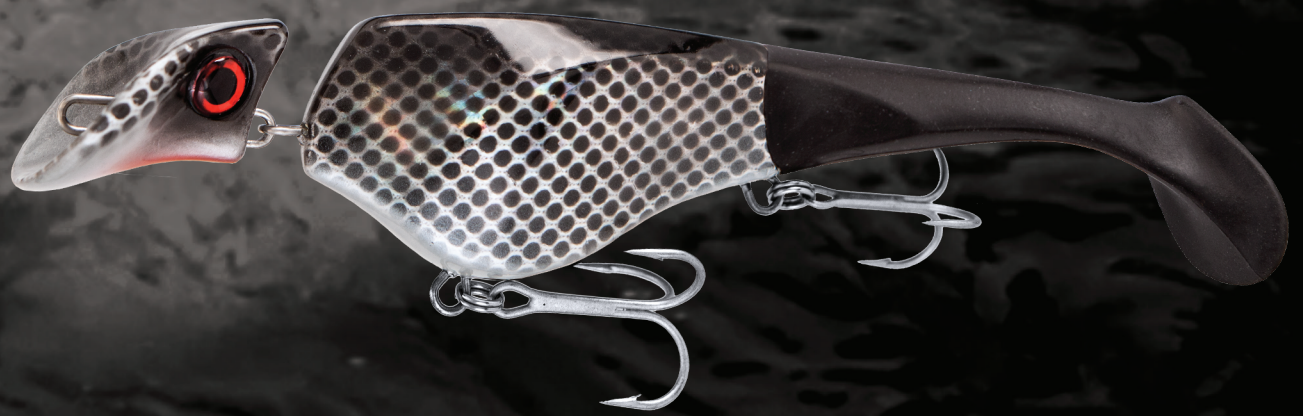

The concave lip on the patented, thru-wire Headbanger Tail creates an erratic, injured, panicked action unlike any other crankbait, inciting massive reaction strikes from opportunistic top predators, even when they're not actively feeding, making this lure a new favorite of guides and industry professionals. A straight retrieve is all that's required, making it perfect for new and fanatic anglers alike, while professionals will pause and twitch occasionally during the retrieve to add even more action. At all times, hold onto your rod!

HEADBANGER SHAD

Take the same erratic, injured, panicked action of the patented, thru-wire Headbanger Tail, add some new patterns, and add a strong, flexible, interchangeable paddletail on an extremely strong anchor to widen the track of the lure, and you'll have the new Headbanger Shad. A straight retrieve does the trick, making it a perfect bait for guides with less experienced clients, while the fanatics will pause and twitch occasionally during the retrieve to turn a follow into a strike. Lock and load, and hold on tight!
